Pastures, Fields Littered

Full Impact of Tornadoes Being Felt in Countryside

By VERYL SANDERSON
Assistant State Editor

As order of sorts develops in the littered cities of Northeast and Oelwein were preparing to meet with federal officials to outline loan and other disaster relief programs available.

With about 85 per cent of the debris cleared from Elma streets, workers turned toward the rural areas in Howard County.

Hal Alert, Howard County Extension Director, commented, "There's 50,000 acres of land affected in the area from Elma north to Chester and from south of Pottsville to north of Cresco.

"Some 52 residents and business firms, 34 farms and the land were badly hit.

"Much of the damage was done to farm fields which have been or were being prepared for planting.

"Pastures are littered with debris, causing a threat to livestock."

Crops Damaged

Alert also said crops which had been planted were severely damaged. "But before planting can be resumed, the fields will have to be cleared," he said.

Members of the Cresco Kiwanis Club, Black Hawk County farmers and high school students from Elma, Cresco and other students were to assist in the rural clean-up Tuesday.

Damage in rural sections was also extensive in the Arcadia area. Several farms were reported leveled, although no serious injuries resulted.

Girl Scalded

However, the 23-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Landers, Jill, was burned Friday when she pulled the cord of a large coffee-maker filled with coffee. Jill was scalded across the front of her feet.

The coffee was being served to workers cleaning debris left by the tornado.

Meanwhile, both Charles City and Oelwein were preparing to meet with federal officials to outline loan and other disaster relief programs available.

Charles City is to meet with officials at 3 p.m. Tuesday. A similar meeting is scheduled in Oelwein at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Harry Brenton, Charles City mayor, said a delegation from Albert Lea, Minn., hit by a tornado last year, met with city officials Monday and "gave us some advice" about avoiding mistakes Albert Lea made in the tornado aftermath.

Issue Plea

Charles City officials estimated 500 persons are homeless. They issued a plea for at least 300 mobile homes.

Businessmen also announced plans to build prefabricated "stores" on Central Park in order to serve the community until their firms can be restored.

Trees in the park were almost completely destroyed, but houses or lots yet. We're waiting to find out what procedures we have to follow before moving too fast," the

Back to Normal

"We're getting back to normal," he said.

In Oelwein, Mayor Sam Mazzioti said a route for tourists to view the tornado damage will be established Sunday. Both Oelwein and Charles City were sealed off to tourists last weekend to facilitate the work of crews clearing the wreckage.

Mayor Mazzioti said rebuilding of the first home in his city was to start Tuesday.

He said there is "still a great deal of work to be done. Progress is ahead of schedule with the complete cooperation of all the help we've received here.

"It's unbelievable the debris has been hauled away so quickly. Our labor supply is holding out real good. We're having wonderful cooperation from the surrounding area.

"Morale has been real great. People have accepted this and now they're ready to go to work to rebuild."

Mazzioti has appointed a citizen's committee representing all segments of the town to work with the city council and planning commission in formulation rebuilding and repair schedules.

The twisters left 16 dead—13 at Charles City, two at Maynard and one at Oelwein—hundreds of injured, and property damage estimated at more than $38 million.

A good neighbor caravan has been organized in Lincoln, Neb., to help Iowa communities hit by tornadoes recently.

Chairman Jim Dier of Lincoln said donations in the form of bedding, canned food and cleaning supplies will be sought.

When assembled and sorted, the items will be transported to Charles City where the Iowa Salvation Army has agreed to act as the distributing agency. Lincoln grocery stores will be collection points.

Mayor Sam Schwartzkopf, the honorary chairman, and the City Council have agreed to proclaim Thursday, Friday and Saturday as good neighbor caravan days in support of the campaign.

TOLEDO — John and Donna Rhodes, Tama, doing business as Court Hill Kennels, have filed an answer in Tama County District Court to the suit started against them by Larry R. Jungman.

Jungman asks judgment for $300 and interest from Jan. 10, 1967, and court costs as the result of two black French poodle dogs he said he purchased from the Rhodes. The dogs both died, he said.

The Rhodes make a denial of Jungman's allegations and ask dismissal of his petition.

They deny they sold him a dog Nov. 15, 1966, but state they sold one to Mary Lou Byers, Iowa City, on that date for $200 and later, on Dec. 15, 1966, they delivered another black French poodle to her and received payment from her of $25.

They deny the dogs were in bad health so as to make them unfit for sale. They say that for lack of information sufficient to form a belief, they deny the two dogs died through no fault of the plaintiff.
